The question for examination now is whether the minimum daily allowance of four annas need be enhanced, and to what extent.

The several variations through which the rate of min. d. a. passed till it reached the present level may be indicated here in brief.

From May 1901, the non-gazetted officers & Merits were entitled to a d. a equal to $3/10^{th}$ of their pay subject in the case of Merits to a minimum of two annas per diem, if their pay exceeded Rs. 8 p.m. and an anna & a half if their pay was Rs. 8 or less.

(2nd Edition of H.S.R.
Act. 5.5.7)

With effect from 30.6.1909, the qualification underlined above in the Case of Merits" was dropped, so that all amounts up to his class were brought under the 1-1-30, removing the distinction between Junior & Inferior Service, but leaving the limit of 3rd section of M.S.R. Act. sub b.)

In the 1st section corrected up to August 1915, the minimum is found varied to three annas per diem if the pay is not less than Rs. 12 p.m. & two annas in other cases. (4th Edn of M.S.R. Act. 588 (b))

In the 5th section of M.S.R. corrected up to 1-8-1931 all officers in Superior & Inferior Service classified under VI & VII the classes are stated to be entitled to a daily allowance for every Rs. 10 of actual salary or bakhori kureed, subject to a minimum of four annas. The rates to be as recommended by the Government Committee of 1931 but the minimum constructed with the result that the allowance to date in the VI & VII the 1st section of M.S.R. (Act. 477)

At present, most manuals are in grade 19 or 20 (including Junior & 1915) so that the minimum applies to a salary of Rs. 10 & less. A daily allowance is usually added to cover the ordinary daily charges of an officer. on four' (514(a) M.S.R). The apparent conclusion is that four annas would cover the daily charges of a merial. With a view to removing any likely hardship for this class of merials, they are given daily allowance in addition to Railway fare or mileage. And on occasions when prices touch a high level, like Dasara & Birthday, special minima are sanctioned year by year.

In Madras also, the Manual of Special Pay & Allowances Vol II, Corrected up to October 1933, Grade XVI - Subordinates in inferior service, a daily allowance of "annas four ordinarily, annas six for journeys by rail outside the district in which their head quarters are situated; annas six for the days halted and annas 12 for the days spent in the train outside the Madras Presidency". (Page 61)

The point for consideration is whether the price of necessary or staple food articles have appreciated since 1931. The year 1931 and the succeeding years were those of price distress and it cannot perhaps be affirmed that living has grown costlier now unless it be due to the impact of modern civilization with its concomitant — luxury — or the present war conditions.

over the whole of the State and the lower rates.
 But it is not necessary to increase the minimum because it is to make the total cost as low as possible. It is of Officers making to the minimum.

It is further to be considered whether the existing arrangements are sufficient. It is possible that the Comptroller may be asked to look up the minimum were increased and to see if it is taking the unit of the minimum as the basis.

The question of raising the general minimum is one ^{that} entails considerable extra cost. If necessary, the Comptroller may be requested to intimate roughly what the extra cost would come to, if the minimum were ~~to~~ to be raised by 1 anna or by 2 annas.

The present practice is elastic and specially higher rates are being allowed for journeys outside the State & for costly seasons etc.

The present time may not be opportune

It has been very often represented that the present rate of minimum daily allowance, viz., 4 annas is very low and cannot fetch 2 frugal meals even during the slack season. Conditions have considerably changed and the cost of living also has undoubtedly gone high and it is desirable that some relief is afforded to the low paid subordinates to enable them to make both ends meet in their camp life. I would therefore suggest that the minimum be raised to 6 annas per day for hawks at all D.H. & Taluk H.D. & at the R.G. 7

Submitted to His Highness.

29 Under the existing provisions of the Mysore Service Regulations Article 479, Officers in Superior Service as well as those in inferior service coming under Classes VI and VII of Article 479 get daily allowance calculated at two annas for every ten rupees of actual salary or fraction thereof in excess, subject to a minimum of four annas.

3° It has often been represented that this rate is very low and cannot fetch two frugal meals a day even during ordinary occasions, letting alone special ones. Conditions have considerably changed in recent years and the cost of living has gone high. It is considered desirable that some relief is afforded to the low paid subordinates to enable them to make both ends meet in their camp life, and it is accordingly proposed to raise the minimum rate of daily allowance from four to six annas for halts at all District and Taluk Headquarters and at the Kolar Gold Fields.

3) The Members of Council are agreeable to this proposal and I solicit His Highness's gracious sanction thereto.
